

Sumitomo Corporation's Annual Report 2016 Apology and Revision

Partial revisions were made to the Annual Report 2016[ENG], which was published in September 2016, to correct errors in the content. We apologize for the errors and present the revised content as follows.

Correction

- P28

Profit for the Year (Attributable to owners of the parent)

(Incorrect)

FY2015
¥ 745 bn.

(Correct)

FY2015
¥ 74.5 bn.

- P33

Forecast of North American Demand for Aluminum Automotive Body Sheets

(Incorrect)

As stricter fuel-efficiency regulations spur the introduction of lighter vehicles, demand for automotive aluminum body sheets is expected to increase. In the United States, the country with the highest demand, aluminum sheet demand is projected to rise rapidly from 2015's 300,000 tons to more than 10 million tons by around 2020. We will cater to this growing demand by entering the business field of surface treatment for automotive aluminum body sheets.

(Correct)

As stricter fuel-efficiency regulations spur the introduction of lighter vehicles, demand for automotive aluminum body sheets is expected to increase. In the United States, the country with the highest demand, aluminum sheet demand is projected to rise rapidly from 2015's 300,000 tons to more than 1 million tons by around 2020. We will cater to this growing demand by entering the business field of surface treatment for automotive aluminum body sheets.

- P67

COLUMN Going on an Overseas Assignment with a Child

(Incorrect)

Sari Kako has belonged to the Construction & Mining Systems Division since joining the MCHC Group, working as a manager at operating companies in North America, India, and Europe. In 2014, taking advantage of our program to help female employees assigned overseas take their children with them, she was assigned as a trainee to an operating company in Florida, the United States, and participated in the company's business management. She returned to her post at the end of 2015.

(Correct)

Sari Kako has belonged to the Construction & Mining Systems Division since joining the Company, working as a manager at operating companies in North America, India, and Europe. In 2014, taking advantage of our program to help female employees assigned overseas take their children with them, she was assigned as a trainee to an operating company in Florida, the United States, and participated in the company's business management. She returned to her post at the end of 2015.